PRINCIPAL’S REPORT

Congratulations to our school captains and year 5 students who I escorted to a leaders’ morning tea and debating training on two separate days last week – you were a joy to spend time with and represented our school in the broader community with pride. Our year 5 girls went the 2015 leaders speeches off to a fantastic start last Friday – all candidates were impressive. Best of luck to our year 5 boys this Friday – remember the assembly will start at 9.05 a.m.

School surveys were sent home to all families earlier this term. A key survey was on the statements from the Melbourne Declaration. To refresh your memory the survey asked you to tick the three statements from the three sections that you felt should be of focus for the school community over the next few years. The three sections were ‘successful learners’, ‘confident and creative individuals’ and ‘active and informed decisions’. The top three results for the first section of successful learners are:
- Students should have good self-esteem – 30%
- Students should be able to relate to others and form healthy relationships – 30%
- Students should be developing personal values such as honesty, resilience, empathy and respect – 16%

The top three results for the second section of confident and creative individuals are:
- Students should have good self-esteem – 30%
- Students should be able to relate to others and form healthy relationships – 30%
- Students should be developing personal values such as honesty, resilience, empathy and respect – 16%

The top three results for the third section of confident and creative individuals are:
- Students should have good self-esteem – 30%
- Students should be able to relate to others and form healthy relationships – 30%
- Students should be developing personal values such as honesty, resilience, empathy and respect – 16%

Students should be developing personal values such as honesty, resilience, empathy and respect – 20%

The top three results for the first section of active and informed decisions are:
- Students should be able to understand and acknowledge the value of Indigenous cultures and contribute to processes of reconciliation – 23%
- Students should be developing into responsible global citizens – 20%

The results of the staff survey closely mirrored those of the parent surveys. The top three results for the first section of successful learners are:
- Students should have essential skills in literacy and numeracy – 29%
- Students should be motivated to achieve their full potential – 16% and
- Students should be creative, innovative, resourceful, and a problem solver – 23% and

The top three results for the second section of confident and creative individuals are:
- Students should have good self-esteem – 29%

Where to from here? Next week I will be providing feedback on the PMI surveys (Plus, Minus, Interesting). Where to from here? Next week I will be providing feedback on the PMI surveys (Plus, Minus, Interesting). The top three results in each section of the Melbourne Declaration will be written into our three year strategic plan. Very early next year I will be asking parents to contribute to planning forums to provide some specific ideas or projects we can develop to help realise the goals of the Melbourne Declaration for the students of Culburra Public School.

We have a very busy three and a half weeks ahead with key events noted on our calendar. I look forward to celebrating our achievements and acknowledging the hard work and the contributions of many that help make our school a great place to be.

Kind regards
Melissa Day – Principal
